

Dear Sirs,

Forty two years have passed since we launched an office at the Boeki Building in “Kyu-kyoryuchi”, i.e., traditional business center in Kobe. During those years, there have been drastic changes in IP laws and systems in the world, and we have made relative changes in our organizational structure and business facilities.

In order to cope with further changes of business environments, we have decided to move our head office to a more conveniently situated place right in front of JR Sannomiya Station in the central metropolitan area of Kobe.

We would also like to announce that at the same time our English name will change to

ARCO PATENT & TRADEMARK ATTORNEYS

to better represent the nature of the services we provide.
